Jodrey Named Chairman of
Board of Selectmen

At a brief organizational meeting following the business session of the Town Meeting, March 22, the Board of Selectmen elected Arlan Jodrey chairman for the coming year and Patricia Dooen as vice-chairman. New Selectmen Alden Kennett and Danny Davis were welcomed to the Board.

The Selectmen made several appointments for 1983: William Judson, General Assistance Administrator, Building Inspector, Road Commissioner, and Airport Manager; Robert Stearns, Police Chief; and Merton Brown, Registrar of Voters, Treasurer and Tax Collector. Board and Committee appointments will be considered in the first regular meeting of the Selectmen, Monday evening, April 4, at seven o'clock in the Town Office Meeting Room.

In other business, the Board voted to schedule Selectmen's meetings on the first and third Mondays of the month, replacing the old schedule of the second and fourth Mondays. This action eliminates the meeting night "competition" with the S.A.D. 44 Board of Directors who also regularly meet on the second and fourth Mondays of the month.

Special Announcements
Effective Friday night, April 1, overnight on-street parking will be permitted. The winter ban on overnight on-street parking was in effect from Nov. 1, 1982 through March 31, 1983.
Citizens are reminded that 1983 moose permit applications must be postmarked no later than midnight Friday, April 1. Applications both for residents and non-residents may be obtained at the Town Office.

Bethel Election Held Monday; Voters Approve Airport Master Plan Tuesday

Four hundred twenty-eight Bethel voters cast ballots in the election portion of the annual Town Meeting held at the Fire Station on Monday of this week.

In the contest for two Selectmen for three years, Alden T. Kennett with 291 and Daniel R. Davis with 236, were elected. Trailing in the tally were David B. Brown, 155; Samuel H. Timberlake, 114, and George O. Hayes, 26.

Mr. Kennett, with 284 votes and Mr. Davis with 247, were also elected to the Board of Assessors for three years. Mr. Brown received 161 votes and Mr. Timberlake 126 in the Assessor voting.

In the uncontested race for two three-year terms on the S.A.D. 44 Board of Directors, Merton T. Brown Jr. received 361 votes and Stanley R. Howe, 360.

Victor L. Coolidge received 261 votes to capture the one-year vacancy on the S.A.D. 44 Board. Gretchen C. Davidson trailed with 153.

In the business session held at the Telstar Auditorium on Tuesday evening the greatest amount of discussion was engendered by the Airport Master Plan issue. Extended discussion of the article included comments by Robert Ballew, whose firm, Hunter-Ballew Associates, authored the Master Plan. Mr. Ballew fielded questions raised by Bethel voters concerning the data contained in the Plan and the methods used in its development. With 183 votes being cast by written ballot, those participating approved the Airport Master Plan (1982) by a 97 to 86 margin.

Implementation of the foregoing affirmative vote depends on the following conditions being satisfied: all state and federal funds necessary being applied for and received by the town, and the local share being raised by the Selectmen. The Selectmen were authorized to apply for and accept state funds in the amount of $78,690 and federal funds in the amount of $706,320 for airport facilities development. The local share is to consist of in-kind contribution (the value of the land acquired by the town through the exercise of an option), and monies received by the selling or leasing of town-owned lots adjacent to the facilities, by renting sites for aircraft tie-down or hangar space, and by other private contributions. An amount of $78,690 to be secured in this manner was appropriated as the local share of the project.

The voters approved the exercising of an option to acquire property adjacent to Col. Dyke Field "to be used for future airport uses."

By voter action 1983 taxes will be due and payable on Oct. 1, 1983, with interest being charged at 1.25% per month on any balance unpaid Nov. 15, 1983.

The Selectmen were also authorized to expend funds generated from rentals in the Cole Block for maintenance and/or energy related repairs to that structure. They were also authorized to expend $1,500 appropriated in 1981 (and carried forward) for development of architectural and engineering plans or improvements on other municipal buildings or facilities as recommended by the Municipal Committee. In 1981, such uses were restricted to the Fire Station.

A donation was accepted from Gould Academy in the amount of $5,000 plus accumulated interest, and applied to the following accounts: Police, $500; Fire, $500; Public Works, $2,000 plus accumulated interest; Hydrant Rental, $2,000.

The Board of Selectmen were authorized to investigate a municipal accounting change from the calendar year (January-December) to a fiscal (July-June) period beginning July 1, 1984, and to provide for a six month transition continued on Page Five Clarice Gibson, Corres.

Flood watches out over the week end for a lot of Maine and New Hampshire. Thankfully the ground must have thawed enough so it soaked up most of it but Evelyn Hillborn said that she and a friend went to Portland Sunday, and coming back through Raymond and Windham, a lot of the road was bad from the rain. They have a saying, "When March comes in like a lion, she goes out like a lamb." I am afraid this year it is working just the opposite. I should have done some washing those good days we had earlier as the clothes just aren't drying these days.

Wednesday Evelyn Hillborn went to a chicken dinner at Ernest and Alberta Angvine's. Judy, Jessica and Vicki Coolidge also joined them.

Thursday, Bertha Flanders, of Locke Mills, Frances Farnum, Kay McAllister from Bryant Pond, went to York Beach by scenic route, and had lunch. They went by Vice President George Bush's house in Kennebunkport. In places the water had apparently been so high that seaweed was on the other side of the road from the ocean.

Friday, Evelyn Hillborn went to Gorham, N. H., shopping and on March 21 Evelyn took Bertha shopping in Rumford and Norway.

Bob Howe has a couple of beef creatures.

Sunday, Bob, Linda and Seth Howe went to a birthday party at Bud and Joan Howe's for Bob's brother, Tom Howe. Others attending were Florence Efield of Rumford, Ethel Ward and Suzanne Kimball. In the afternoon Linda and Seth attended a bridal shower for Suzanne Kimball at West Bethel. Bob and Bud Howe went to Stephens Memorial Hospital to visit Stella Howe who was in the hospital with pneumonia. This was the first birthday party of her son Bud's two boys, Stella Howe was unable to attend. Monday, Mrs. Howe was discharged and went to Blackie and Ruth Cummings' until she can go back to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Coolidge and girls had his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Coolidge, visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Angvine and Betty Blake were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Coolidge and girls.

Oriel and Agnes Deblois of Shelburne, N. H., were recent visitors of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Angvine.

Chet Hayes of Shelburne, N. H., had dinner with Lester and Ruth Butters, Wednesday.

Frank and Sylvia Benson went to Portland Friday on business.

Dr. Leonard Shaw was in Boston Saturday to Monday to an optometrist's meeting. He stayed with his folks, Dr. and Mrs. Jules Shaw, in Brookline, Mass. He also had a good time visiting some friends.

Friday, Becky Shaw's Uncle Jerold and Aunt Alice Davis of Cheshire, Mass., spent the evening.

Wednesday night, Elaine Hutchins, Sid Murphy, Sally Hannon, Becky Shaw, Pat Anderson and Elizabeth Morse of Sudbury Village, took advantage of ladies' night at D. W. McKeen's.

The 15th, Gloria Jackman and I went to a meeting in Jay, Wednesday, Jean Morizo and I went to

ROUND ROBIN BRIDGE RESULTS

The mid winter session of Round Robin Bridge ended with a dinner at D. W. McKeen's March 20, with the following results, first, Rita Davis; second, Sally Ramage; third, Dutch Dresser; fourth, Connie Thurston; fifth, Dot Moore; single high, Connie Thurston, and single low, Pat Bennett. The spring session will begin very soon, so those planning to play should contact Pearl McMillin, 824-2500, for sign up.

As a reminder: the Special Olympics Progressive Rubber Bridge will be April 10 at 7 p. m. at the Bethel Inn. This is a very special night and it is hoped that everyone (experience not necessary) will come and join in. Singles will be welcomed as there are extras or stand-bys to fill the tables. For further information, call Carolyn Brooks or Cynthia Mason.

an MS meeting in South Paris. Thursday, Aunt Sarah and I went to Norway and had a lunch. On the way down we stopped at the folks, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, and on the way back we went to the Five Kezars in Watford and stopped at Aunt Blanche Buton's and saw both her sons, Ben and Bill. Friday, Kathy Hanscom gave me a home permanent. Saturday, Frank and I went down to Mr. and Mrs. George Allen's for 63 card game and supper. Oh, yes, my sister, Iva Holden, stopped in Thursday, Sunday, Frank and I left in the rain for Hampton Falls, N. H., where we had lunch with Eddie and Bobby Pevear. Frank, Bobby and I went to Epping to visit Frank and Bobby's mother, Mrs. Thirza Gibson. Grammie Gibson is in the same home as Mrs. Quimby of Gilead, who is in her 100's. Maybe some of the Gilead people can remember her. While at the home, Eddie's brother, Charles Pevear, Verna and daughter, Charlotte, dropped in. We stayed until supper time and picked up Eddie and went out for supper. Frank and I drove to Portland where we stayed overnight with our son, Jim, Sue, and Heather. Heather is walking and they are so cute when they are getting their sea-legs so to speak. Monday we went to a doctor in Portland. Tuesday, Frankie came to visit and Frank and George came home for dinner as Monday was Frank's birthday and kind of a birthday celebration. In the evening Frank and George went to town meeting, so a busy, busy week. Oh yes, Sunday morning Iva called from Korea (he was heading back to Japan the 22nd) and we talked to Wilfred in Hawaii on Tuesday morning.

Was it I? The disciples at the table ate the bread, drank the wine; The Master in their midst foretold His betrayal and the sign. There was shock and horror and doubt, A tear in every eye. As those at the table murmured, Questioned, "Lord, is it I?" Yet men have always betrayed Him. Since Judas first dipped bread, Disappointed, crucified Him. By the kind of lives they led. Today I sat at His table, And I thought I heard Him sigh As I asked for His forgiveness, Whispered, "Lord, was it I?" —Genevieve Larwell

Gilead

Louise Loring, Corres.

While the rains and cloudy skies continued to badger us all last week, many are finding that the long gloomy days without sun are becoming increasingly harder to bear. Can it be that these are April showers, and we are a month ahead of ourselves, weather-wise? One unique person with whom I came in contact, expressed himself in this manner, "I hope the sun never comes out again—I burn rather easily!" Well burn or not friends, here it is Sunday afternoon and as I sit at my table and gaze out the windows, I can actually see a patch of blue sky here and there. The winds are gently rocking the hedgerows to its mournful whining lullaby—and the sun has deigned to peek out from behind one of the most menacing clouds—just to see what the world has been doing—or more correctly, what the world has been up to, since its long demise.

A world without light and without sun (psychologists have proven) for long periods of time tend to depress most of us and bring out the blackness of our mortal natures, so to speak. Long ago pre-historic man "kindled" up a fire as the shades of night drew near to keep treacherous marauders away from their hallowed domains. Many poets have exalted the praises of light over darkness—and one of the oldest books ever written, the Bible, tells it all.

Songs have been sung in honor of the light down through the ages—in the 1940's during wartime, ("The Big One" as Archie Bunker would say) all "free and liberated" peoples—were singing something about "When the Lights go on again all over the World" and so it continues to present day. Debby Boone crooning "You Light Up My Life". Expressions such as "don't hide your light under a bushel basket" or "light up the corner where you are," have become common household expressions—and how many of you can remember "The Old Lamp-lighter"—in the 50's reminding about the old fellow in the Gay Nineties, who every night trudged down the streets with his torch lighting the gas street-lights of long ago, so that every part of town could be bathed in a rosy glow of light?

Thought for the week: To let the light of knowledge die away—is to count inevitable disaster. The Gilead Women's Club met Tuesday, March 15, at 7 p. m. at Belanger's Store. Eleven members were present. Anna Belanger provided the lunch. (Correction: The Easter Basket will be awarded at 10 a. m. on March 26). The game party netted $17 for the Club. A good time was had by all and the luckiest winners were Mildred McLain and Georgia MacArthur. Next meeting will be held on April 19. New members are welcome.

Town meeting was held last Saturday evening at the Municipal Building here in Gilead. There was only a small attendance, due to the inclement weather.

One day last week Gilead was treated to a spectacular air show as two U. S. Air Force jets, banked, dived, rolled and frolicked over our river, mountains and valley.

Mrs. Rachel DeCoster of Canton, enjoyed several days visiting her daughter, Mrs. Nancy Corriveau, and friends in the area.

Kathy Corriveau entertained her fiancée, Kenneth Cole, of Greenwood, at her parents' home, this past week end.

Mrs. Homer Patenaude spent several days last week in Rhode Island visiting friends and relatives.

The Daniel Cole family have been busy gathering and boiling off their maple syrup.

Jean Corriveau with her son and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Corriveau and baby of Turner, were here in town, calling on relatives this past week end. Roger VISIT KINDERGARTEN AT ETHEL BISBEE SCHOOL — On Monday morning of this week the children pictured above, members of Deedee Kellogg's Stepping Stone Nursery School, visited the Ethel Bisbee School's kindergarten classes of Mrs. Gallant and Miss Driscoll.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Moulton, owners of Evans Notch Motel, visited Kittery on Monday, March 14, returning the following day. They are now enjoying the company of their granddaughters, Stephanie and Alison Davis, from York Harbor.

On March 14, a nice sunny day, Cy Cole tapped some maples, hoping for a treat of that nectar of spring for he and friends. Sap ran fair that afternoon—but did not run all the rest of the week.

Connection—The word "hood" was mistakenly used instead of the proper word "hook" in last week's column. "A little hook set in the ice saw teeth sure improved the speed and ease of cutting ice."

Mrs. Stella Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Tyler went to Nottingham, N. H., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Chester Barnes, this past week end.

75 Years Ago in Gilead
In the era from the middle 1800's through the early 1900's Gilead prospered under the very able efforts and leadership of Mr. J. W. Bennett, who conducted a flourishing lumber mill and general store business here.

The fine home and two large barns that Mr. Bennett constructed on the site of what is now the Gilead picnic area, were then surely among the very best in the Androscoggin Valley.

Mrs. Bennett was very kind, especially she loved children, as quite often she treated them to a tour of the Grand Old Mansion, and served them goodies often in the open "Summer House" which was located on a shady knoll at the rear of the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, along with their lovely Collie dog, were buried in the Big Pine Grove a few hundred feet south of their home on their own property, indeed a well chosen spot to rest on their many, many good deeds and achievements!

So, in the early 1920's the very lovely, picturesque place, and several hundred acres of prime timberland, passed from the role of a privately owned tax-paying enterprise, of great benefit to the Town of Gilead, to the area of public domain, or the White Mt. Nat. Forest.

This recorded transaction of long ago, we were obliged to accept, for better or worse, as reality, and so becomes a part of Gilead's History.

Greenwood City

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.

March usually has a dubious reputation. It is spoken of in terms of dark deeds such as mud, floods, lamb-and-lion beliefs, and strong winds. But that isn't all that covers March. It gives us more daylight than darkness, the pussy willows with silver catkins, some warm and gentle breezes, friendly sun, as warm as April and the Red-wing black-birds. Yes, I saw them this week at my feeder and heard their "Kau-karee, karee". By the pond it perched on a willow spray over the water. Its voice was liquid, bubbling, watery almost like the tinkling of a fountain and in perfect harmony with its surroundings. It cooed, trickles, tinkles, bubbles from the throat and this time it sounded, "Bob-dee-e-e." They time their return by the season rather than the weather. These arrivals are the males. I always look forward to their red caped and black wings to the echo of their calls from the swamps and wooded pond areas. The females will come about two weeks from now and travel alone. How different they look garbed in their striped and mottled brown and looking somewhat like a big sparrow.

Our pond channel has unbottled its icy coat and we now see the dark bosom of water in the midst of the ice.

Two other visitors appeared as we ate our breakfast. They came at the same time; a muskrat having a delightful swim and a mink running along the edge of the ice next to the water. They said "Howdy" then Muskrat went down and beneath the ice while Mink bounded around the water's edge and to the back shore.

Our friends, Edward and Ruby, from Canton, Mass., came to see us this week. They went again with me to the top farm field where we climbed last fall to view the autumn foliage. How different this week! No leaf show but it occurred to me while looking to the mountains, where the firs and spruces were silhouetted against the Maine sky, that they resembled a rip-saw with some of the teeth missing. They stood there, wholly unveiled in their bulk and majesty.

In one field for a brief distance there was ankle deep snow, but over all it was brown and bare.

I was, maybe more than most, among the lucky that I was able to participate in the rhapsody of spring time up there where we paused on the hill side to look at the mountains, the distant lodges, and bits of snow and water. The flowing has run to the sea its whole life but still is right there.

The sun was battling its way with the clouds, struggling to clear a path among them, as we started down the hill.

The depth of our cold is passing. The snow vanishes and the surface melt evaporates into the air. Moving air absorbs the moisture and carries it away.

I was sorry that it was so wet for I wanted to show my friends the Bulldozer Road. Maybe another time but not when it becomes "Mosquito Lane." Perhaps when the first plants on the hills, look as though someone had taken a great brush and stroked them gently with light green and a thrush with clear violin notes makes the valley alive with music, will be a better time.

So we'll wait for a time when spring at last holds up her face to be kissed, deliberate and unabashed and no wind blows, or chill finds the bone. But it's a day that can come only in our northern climate, where there has been a long chilling background of frigid air, and a long deficiency of sun.

So come again, friends, and see the hills in summer.

Letters to the Editor

March 22, 1983

To the Editor:

Many thanks for permitting me to use the columns of the "Citizen" to thank all those who supported me for the position of Director of S.A.D. 44. I will certainly do my best to represent all interests in ensuring that greater educational opportunities are offered to persons of all ages at the lowest possible cost.

I was also deeply saddened to read of the death of Harold Nading. He should certainly be recognized for an important contribution to the Moses Museum.

Following the advice of several in the antique and museum business throughout the state I consulted on behalf of the Moses Museum two clock experts to repair clocks that had been generously donated. When the clocks returned to the Museum they ran for a brief period but soon stopped. It was impossible to get them to run even though I complained. In despair of ever getting operating clocks for the Museum I discussed the situation with several people in Bethel to see if there was someone I had overlooked. It was suggested that I contact Harold. Although he assured me he was not a professional clock repairer he said he would take a look. The rest of the story is that the clocks have been running well for the past seven years. Harold had done what the so-called "professionals" could not. Although he did it largely for fun, Harold since that time has fixed numerous clocks for me, my

To the Editor:

This afternoon I called the Bethel Ambulance for a tenant in the Bethel House. Approximately 10 minutes from the time I called the Sheriff's Office, one Rescue person arrived, with the ambulance right behind him. One could not ask for faster service than that.

The people in the Town of Bethel and surrounding areas should indeed be thankful for the fast and efficient service this dedicated group of men and women give them.

Sincerely,

Roger E. Hanscom

To Whom It May Concern:

I, Stanley S. Moulton and wife Lillian, residents of the Town of Gilead, and the long residents of the State of Maine, are not carpet-baggers.

The definition of carpet-bagger, for those of you who can read, is clearly defined in any dictionary.

family and friends. We will all miss his good nature and sure touch.

As I wound the clocks this morning in the Museum, I could not help but think of Harold's contribution. Thousands of visitors have benefited from his skill and their museum experience has been richer and more rewarding because of his generous sharing of his special talent.

My deepest sympathy is extended to his family.

Very sincerely yours,

The last fish house has been moved off the pond. The pond is very high with lots of water around the shore line.

"In the central place of every heart there is a recording chamber: so long as it receives messages of beauty, hope, cheer and courage, you are young."

Why, we too would be in a perpetual state of misery to witness the pleading eyes looking at us asking besides for a touch of water on their lips—the questions, Why didn't you tell me about Jesus, that I too could have been saved? Why didn't you pray for me? You're deemed by the precious blood of the Lamb—someone told you about salvation through Jesus—you knew—as I know now, too late, of Christ's death on the cross for atonement of my sins—but you never told me!

Nowhere in God's Word is there any indication of such a future for God's children—but, just supposing.

Zechariah 8:16—"These are the things ye shall do: Speak every man the truth to his neighbor..."

Walking With Jesus Christ

A parable — Webster's: an allegorical relation from which a moral or religious lesson may be drawn.

There are parables throughout the Bible. The fig tree in Judges 9: 8-15, the pet lamb—2 Samuel 12: 1-4 etc. One outstanding event referred to as a parable may very well be an actual happening—in parables names are not given—but here it is—the reference to the rich man and "Lazarus" the beggar.

"There was a certain rich man, who was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fed sumptuously every day. And there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, who was laid at his gate, full of sores, and desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table; moreover the dogs came and licked his sores. And it came to pass that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels to Abraham's bosom: the rich man also died and was buried: and in hades he lifted up his eyes, being in torment, and saw Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom, and he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame." Luke 16: 19-31.

Now we know that the departed saved are in the presence of the Lord 2 Cor. 5:3 Paul—"absent from the body and to be in the presence of the Lord"; as is Lazarus. However—pure conjecture—let's wonder if the departed saved could see and hear the cries of those in agony—suppose we were saved in "Abraham's bosom" were to witness their distress—what thoughts would enter our minds?

MOOSE HUNT APPLICATION DEADLINE IS APRIL 1 Sportmen hopeful of being among those chosen to hunt moose in Maine this fall have only until April 1 to apply for the permit drawing, according to the Maine Fish and Wildlife Department.

Nine hundred Maine residents and 100 nonresidents will be issued moose hunting permits, by lottery, to participate in the Sept. 19-24 hunt in northern Maine.

Resident application blanks are available from any office of the Fish and Wildlife Department and from resident hunting and fishing license agents.

Nonresidents may obtain their application blanks by writing to Moose Application, Maine Fish and Wildlife Dept., Sta. 11, Augusta, Maine 04333. Including a self-addressed envelope with the request will assure prompt action. Blanks may also be obtained by phoning 207-289-2043.

Applications for the drawing are limited to one person, but more than one blank will be sent upon request.

The nonrefundable application fees are $5 for Maine residents and $10 for nonresidents and aliens. Possession of a hunting license is not required to apply for the permit drawing.

Hunters to receive moose hunting permits will be selected at a public drawing in May and will be notified by registered mail.

Each person selected to receive a permit may name another person to accompany him or her on the hunt. The limit is one moose, but it may be taken by either member of the party.

Moose hunting permits will cost $20 for residents and $200 for nonresidents and aliens. In addition, all moose hunters, including their subpermittees, must have a 1983 license to hunt big game. There are no other fees.

Maine is one of eight states with moose hunting, the only one in the East. Among the states, only Alaska has more moose than Maine.

The 1983 moose season will be only the state's third in the last 48 years. In 1982, 88% of Maine's moose hunters were successful.

SEN. TWITCHELL SPONSORING TREE GROWTH TAX REIMBURSING LEGISLATION

Senator Donald Twitchell (D-Norway), will be sponsoring legislation which will enable towns to be reimbursed for taxes lost due to lands being classified under the tree growth tax law. According to Senator Twitchell, more than $300,000 has already been reimbursed to communities throughout the state as a result of earlier legislation.

Senator Twitchell's bill will see to it that the rest of the money that is owed to these communities is paid out promptly. "This whole issue has been delayed long enough," said Twitchell. "It is not fair to make those communities who are due to receive monies wait any longer."

Sent in by Vava Whitman:

Another week gone by and the calendar says it's Spring. Really beginning to look that way too. Early Spring flowers are beginning to bloom, and that should be a good sign. We are getting other kinds of birds too, those that come early in the Spring.

Russell decided he wouldn't need the snowblower on the tractor anymore, so worked at taking it off and putting on the bucket, the first of the week. Of course, he could get fooled but he hope not.

On Tuesday, we had a short visit from Verna Swan of Bryant Pond. She had been to the Senior Citizen lunch that day, so stopped for a few minutes.

Had to go to the doctor in Fryeburg on Wednesday afternoon, for one of my many appointments. When we got home, we found Peggy had company, as well as making some of her delicious chocolate chip cookies. Her daughter, Myrna, and husband, Bernard White, of Auburn, were visiting, and Whitey was sampling the cookies.

Russell tried them too, and both pronounced them quite good. We were getting ready for the housewarming party I had scheduled for Thursday night. Not too good weatherwise, but I had a nice party with a good number of ladies present. Hope everyone enjoyed themselves.

Barbara Yates stopped in for a while Friday afternoon. I always like to listen, when others get to talking about where they have been, or plan to go, and that's what Peggy and Barb did. I have always wished that I could travel some to see the country, but so far my trips were going and coming to and from Florida, where I worked four different winters. I'd love to see more of this good old country, with all its many kinds of beauty.

Saturday sure was what one would call a rainy day. It wasn't even fit for ducks, so stayed in out of it. It seems to have taken a lot of the frost out of the ground though. Where water was running through the yard, it now disappears into the ground, and makes the yard dryer. We are glad of that, as we had quite a stream running there for a while.

Peggy went to West Bethel Saturday evening to spend time with her daughter, Loretta Merrill and family. Rusty was home from college in New Hampshire for the week end, so she got a chance to see him. He had called for a minute in the afternoon, to pick up slides for a school project.

Russell was up early Sunday morning to go to a special sale in Oxford. However, he came home empty handed. Said they sure weren't giving things away.

Peggy had gone early to do the wash, but after they both got home, we walked over to Alden Kennett's, across the road. We saw steam coming from his saphouse and wanted to see his evaporator at work, boiling down sap. It's a pretty neat rig. I had seen a huge evaporator, years ago at a farm, where they did quite a business of making maple syrup in the Spring.

This small one was so efficient, but looks very efficient and I'm sure after seeing it, that it does a good job. It hasn't been very good sap weather this year. The nights have been too warm for it to freeze, which is needed to make the sap run good. Have to wait next year to make much syrup I guess.

While over there, we took a look at their new trailer. It is a beauty and I expect they will get a lot of pleasure from it. Hope so anyway.

Also solved the mystery of where the bees came from that we have seen working the cracked corn, that Russell put out for the birds and squirrels. Russell decided they were honey bees, and wondered where they came from. It seems Mr. Kennett has a hive over there, and that's where they were from. Russell even put out some sugar and water for them, but they didn't touch that. It's hard to imagine their getting anything from dry cracked corn, but they were having a good time working on the kernels. They have been here several times.

Hope we don't get rain every day, this next week. I don't know about the rest of you, but I'm getting tired of it.

Had an unexpected visit from Micho and Bud Record, from Hungry Hollow, South Paris, Sunday night. Am always glad when friends drop by.

We still have our birds and squirrels about. Even have a few new birds now, which seems good. That's usually a good sign of Spring. We have had one chick-a-dee here this winter that I wish I could catch to help him. The upper part of his beak is so long, it is almost impossible for him to eat. He can't get the seeds, the way the others do. The only thing he seems to go for is the doughnut. We thought he would break that long piece off when he was eating the frozen food, but it is harder than one would believe. He has grown thin and I would love to help him, as I would my parakeet, but of course he doesn't know that. I just hope he gets it worked down before it is too late. Hate to see him go without the food he needs. Guess I'm soft hearted, but I love the birds.

Have a good week, and watch for all the signs of spring.

Albany, Mason, Avon, Weld, Rangleley and Sandy River. The district would no longer include Woodstock, Sumner, Hartford, Roxbury or Andover.

The Legislature will be voting on this proposal soon. I do not feel I will support it because I feel it is not sensitive to the needs or interests of the communities.

Several people have written to me requesting that their communities be included in my Legislative District. At this time I can only say that if the Commission's proposal fails the court will make the decision.

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to thank everyone who helped me out during my recent illness and surgery. This town is the greatest—from visiting me to keeping a watchful eye on my family and keeping them supplied with goodies—you were there. Special thanks to Pixie Williams and Jan Whitworth for being extra watchful and caring in getting me through a tough week end. Thanks once again to my favorite daughter-in-law to be, Ellen Lovejoy for just being there, helping when needed.

In Gratitude

Redistricting
Reapportionment of the State of Maine in 1983 involves the redistricting of the State Senate and House Seats as well as the two congressional seats to reflect population changes recorded by the 1980 Federal Census. The Apportionment Commission's objectives were equality of population, districts should be contiguous and compact and sensitive to communities of common interest.

The Federal Census determined the state population was 1.2 million; therefore, the population distribution in my Legislative district would be 7,451.

The Commission's proposal for my district would become Bethel, Hanover, Newry, Gilead, Byron, Upton, Magalloway, Lincoln and Rangleley Plantations, with the new towns of Lovell, Waterford,

CITIZEN'S EAST BETHEL CORRESPONDENT VISITS CALIFORNIA DATE FESTIVAL

by Mrs. David S. Foster

On Feb. 24 we took a trip to the Date Festival in Indio about a two hour drive from Long Beach. We went with a group from the All States Society, about 35 people. It was a lovely day so enjoyed the ride. When we arrived at the Fair Grounds we were met by people dressed in Arabian costumes — very pretty. After having our hands stamped so we could go out and back again we piled onto the tram cars pulled by big tractors. Usually there are four cars to a tractor with seats on both sides. There were at least four of these tram cars going back and forth from the gate to the main buildings. We went about a half mile through date palm orchards to the main drag. I noticed that many of the date palms had ladders in the tops—70 or 80 feet from the ground. A few had several ladders going up the tree. It must be quite a chore to go up the ladders with a pack to get the dates clustered at the top.

The first place we went was to the grandstand where we watched the ostrich and camel races. There were three ostriches hitched to sulkies with drivers trying their best to steer them around the arena. Men with blinders on a long pole tried to keep up with them and turn them by putting the blinders up to the eye of the ostrich. The ostriches were so keyed up with the shouts of the men and crowds that they wheeled and shuffled around the arena in great shape. It was very funny. The camel race was also funny as the drivers couldn't get them to go where they wanted them. The camels went where they wanted to go so some turned and went the wrong way. It is surprising how fast the camels can cover the ground. After the races we wandered around the buildings to see the exhibits. In one building there were industrial arts of wood, metal, engineering, ceramics, plastics, etc. Woodcarving of all kinds in one building. Minerals and gems, jewelry, baking goods, sewing as well as vegetables and fruit were in others. It's really a very big fair dressed up in Arabian style. Also in one building there was a circus but we didn't get there. There were also the Queen and two princesses who rode around in a car at least once. I didn't get a picture of them as they got past us before I could get my camera ready.

At 4:30 p.m. we went back to the bus to get our coats as we knew it would be cool while we watched the Arabian Nights play—"The Unwilling Princess". This was set on the patio in front of a Mosque type building. The costumes were gorgeous, the singing and music was superb. The queen of the festival is known as Queen Scheherazade, legendary writer of the Arabian Nights Tales. Between the scenes the stage became dark and the "dancing waters" came on. These were small fountains of water, some going straight up, others curving every way. These were lit up by blue and red lights, and beautiful music played during this spectacular sight. There were only two professional actors and singers in the pageant. The rest were townspeople and students from the colleges. One building built like and called the Taj Mahal featured date and citrus fruit. It was very beautiful.

Dates have been around more than 5,000 years, originating in Arabia and southwestern Asia. Dates were known in Egypt before the Christian era. Date palms were first brought to California by the early Spaniards and today the oldest known date palm in this country was planted by Father Junipero Serra at the mission in Old Town San Diego where it still lives. There are 4,000 acres of dates planted in California.

MOLLOCKETT MIXERS DANCE SATURDAY, MARCH 26

Mollockett Mixers will hold a square dance at Rumford High School from 8-11 p.m. Saturday, March 26. Sip Brown will call squares and Wally Weeks will be cueing rounds.
